LAND DAMAGES IN LOWER BRIDGE

Opinion is Prevalent That SYRUP OF FIGS Condemnation Proceedings Will Be Instituted.

The opinion is prevalent in City Hall, today, that the construction of Stratford avenue bridge must be con-siderably delayed. The hearing before the Board of Appraisal of Banefits and damages, which took place Tuesday evening, brought out claims for $131,500 for land damages, with little or nothing in the way of benefits to offset the damages.

The appropriation for the bridge is not large anough, even when the payment promised by the Connecticut Company is taken into consideration.

The bridge, plus land damages, is expected to cost more than $500,000. The evidence taken has caused many love it, and it can not cause injury. such conditions that the land damages might be small, or larger, according to whether the city desired a street at the east approach of the bridge, or Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.

The City Plan commission endeavor-ed to show the common council that the bridge actually adopted would be more costly, and that its construction would impede traffic.

The representatives of the commis-sion were treated in a manner that was barely courteous, and the advice for which the city paid a large sum to City Planner Nolen, was rejected favor of the present scheme.

Secretary Garrison Makes Publie Its Recommendations For U. S.

Washington, Dec. 10-Secretary Garrison made public to-day in connection with his annual report the special National Defense report prepared at his request by the War Col-lege division of the general staff. It shows that the army itself considers that as a proper military policy to secure Continental United States from attack, it is necessary to have a mo-bile army of 1,500,000 fully or par-tially trained men. It makes the following specific recommendations for the organization it believes necessary: Regular Army.
